Honor Council

The Indiana Association of Student Councils awarded the SHS Student Council the status of Honor Council for the twenty-third consecutive year at their State Convention in Indianapolis Nov. 3rd and 4th.

In order to achieve this award, the Student Council must submit documentation of activities that support their overall mission of student leadership, scholarship, community service, charitable donations to organizations, cooperative project with faculty and administration, and involvement in State Projects (Read to Succeed and Adopt-A-School).

On behalf of SHS, they also received recognition from Riley Hospital as a Riley Miracle School. Scottsburg achieved that status through donations collected from our student body by both the Sunshine Society and the Student Council. Nine students attended the convention including: President Stephanie Valencia, Vice-President Hayley Love, Treasurer Kelsie Collins, Parliamentarian Brandon Boswell, and members Haley Mullins, HyeRee Ellis, Jared Taylor, Luke Taylor, and Mitch Sebastian.

All District Band

11 members of the Scottsburg Band of Warriors were selected to the Indiana Bandmasters All District High School Honor Band. They include (pictured right to left) Anna Hall, Karissa Light, Taylor Robbins, Jon Treadway, Alyssa Johnston, Keeli Stewart, Eli Hunefeld, and Isaiah Vires. Also selected but not pictured were Denali Woodruff, Justin Wright, and Taylor Barrett.

The Honor Band was directed by Dr. Al Harrison, Director of Bands at Taylor University.

Can Food Drive

The Scottsburg Community ClearingHouse received 1941 canned food items from Scottsburg High School on November 13th as a result of community

Trick-or-Treating and an overwhelming support of our staff and students.

Our two (highly charged) team leaders were Jason Bagwell of the Evil Empire and Tammy Davis of the Glorious Underdogs. This year's winning team, Glorious Underdogs, not only had the most cans collected but also had the largest number of first period classes competing in the event and the largest per student donation winner.

Mrs. Davis' first period barely surpassed Mrs. Sara Stuckwisch's class with a 12.2222 average donation per student enrolled in her class. Less than one can per student was the difference in donations between these two classes. Thanks for helping the Student Council help others.

Day of the Dead

Scottsburg New Tech World Studies students recently celebrated Day of the Dead, an important Mexican holiday that honors lost loved ones.

Students made authentic Mexican foods such as empanadas and pico de gallo and brought them in to share with the class. Madame Couch shared an authentic altar she created for a cousin she lost to cancer. After the Mexican dinner, students painted faces in the style of the traditional sugar skulls.

Pirates at SHS

New Tech teacher, Madame Couch dressed as a pirate to roll out a new project for her all campus French III class called "Pirates of the Caribbean." In the photo, students were asked to create a ship so that Madame could sail back to the Caribbean. Students will be reading a novel in French about French pirates during the 1600's.

Financial Aid Night

The SHS Guidance Department hosted their annual Scholarship and Financial Aid Night Tuesday of this week. Richard Nash of Hanover College and Jamie Toppe of the Scott County Community Foundation presented an overview of financial aid available to students when pursuing their post-secondary education.

Mrs. Toppe reviewed the Lilly Scholarship process. Students must apply online. To complete the process, final essays must be written at Austin High School on December 4th or Scottsburg High School's Media Center on December 6th. Seniors please check the Guidance website or visit the Guidance Office to secure information.

Supreme Court Case

Journalism students just completed their Mock Trial project of Supreme Court Case Morse v. Frederick. Portraying roles as lawyers, justices, and reporters, students researched First Amendment cases dealing with student free speech, assembly, and press rights as they prepared their cases.

Helping in the project, Scott County Prosecutor Jason Mount visited all four journalism classes to offer his expertise in how to break down support for a case by using one of the cases they were studying.

The following week, students had their cases prepared and conducted the trial under the direction of their Chief justices. The real Supreme Court Case ended in a 5-4 vote in favor of the petitioner, Principal Deborah Morse. The school cases also ended closely with the courts in two classes finding in favor of Morse and two courts finding in favor of the student Joseph Frederick.

SHS Basketball Begins

The Warriors and Warriorettes are ready to take the court again. Last Friday the girls decisively defeated Jennings County.

Next week we renew the county rivalry with the Austin Eagles. Tuesday is the "Pink" out night to fight breast cancer. We encourage the fans of both schools to come to Meyer Gym to watch their girls play and support the fight against cancer.

Wednesday the boys rivalry continues as the Warriors invade Austin High School. We hope that our fans come out and support our teams in this annual rite of high school sports in Scott County.

We encourage everyone to show good sportsmanship!
